I've just got a notice from the telephone company informing me, "Sunday, July 15, is number change day. On Sunday, July 15, at 12:01 a.m., you'll get a new phone number along with all the other phone users in Carmel, Carmel Valley and Monterey Exchange."

No-I won't. I can bear to wait until morning.

We'll have "prefixes" too, so we can have the ecstasy of dialing two letters and five numbers, seven twirls, instead of five. This means nothing to the lazy bones who do not serve on a get out the vote committee or edit a newspaper. But two additional twirls on 50 calls is 200 excess twirls. Now that I've got my weight down to normal I don't need that much exercise.

Monterey's prefix is FR for Frontier; Carmel Valley's is OL for Olive, Carmel's is MA for Mayfair. Fancy that! All we need to do now is call our main thoroughfare Ocean Avenue Mall and we're a little bit of old London, by Jove!

Mrs. Wilma Cook, Editor
The Carmel Pine Cone,
Dear Mrs. Cook,

At tonight's public hearing on Carmel's proposed master plan, I expressed myself as being generally in favor of it. There are, however, several points about which I am still undecided. I would appreciate it if you would clarify two of these points for me.

1. As I understand it, the orange or "buffer" zone would include churches, clubs, professional offices, hotels, motels and multiple dwellings. How does this zone compare with the area available for motels at present? It seems large on the map, and I wonder whether it might not encourage erection of too many motels and thus too many tourists.

2. Great concern was shown tonight for the preservation of the beautiful, unimpeded view from the top of the hill right down Ocean Ave. to the sea. But if Highway I is closed to traffic how many people are going to be able to drive down the hill and enjoy that view? I still do not understand why it is necessary to close Highway I, nor why it is desirable to concentrate all incoming and outgoing traffic on one arterial (Junipero).

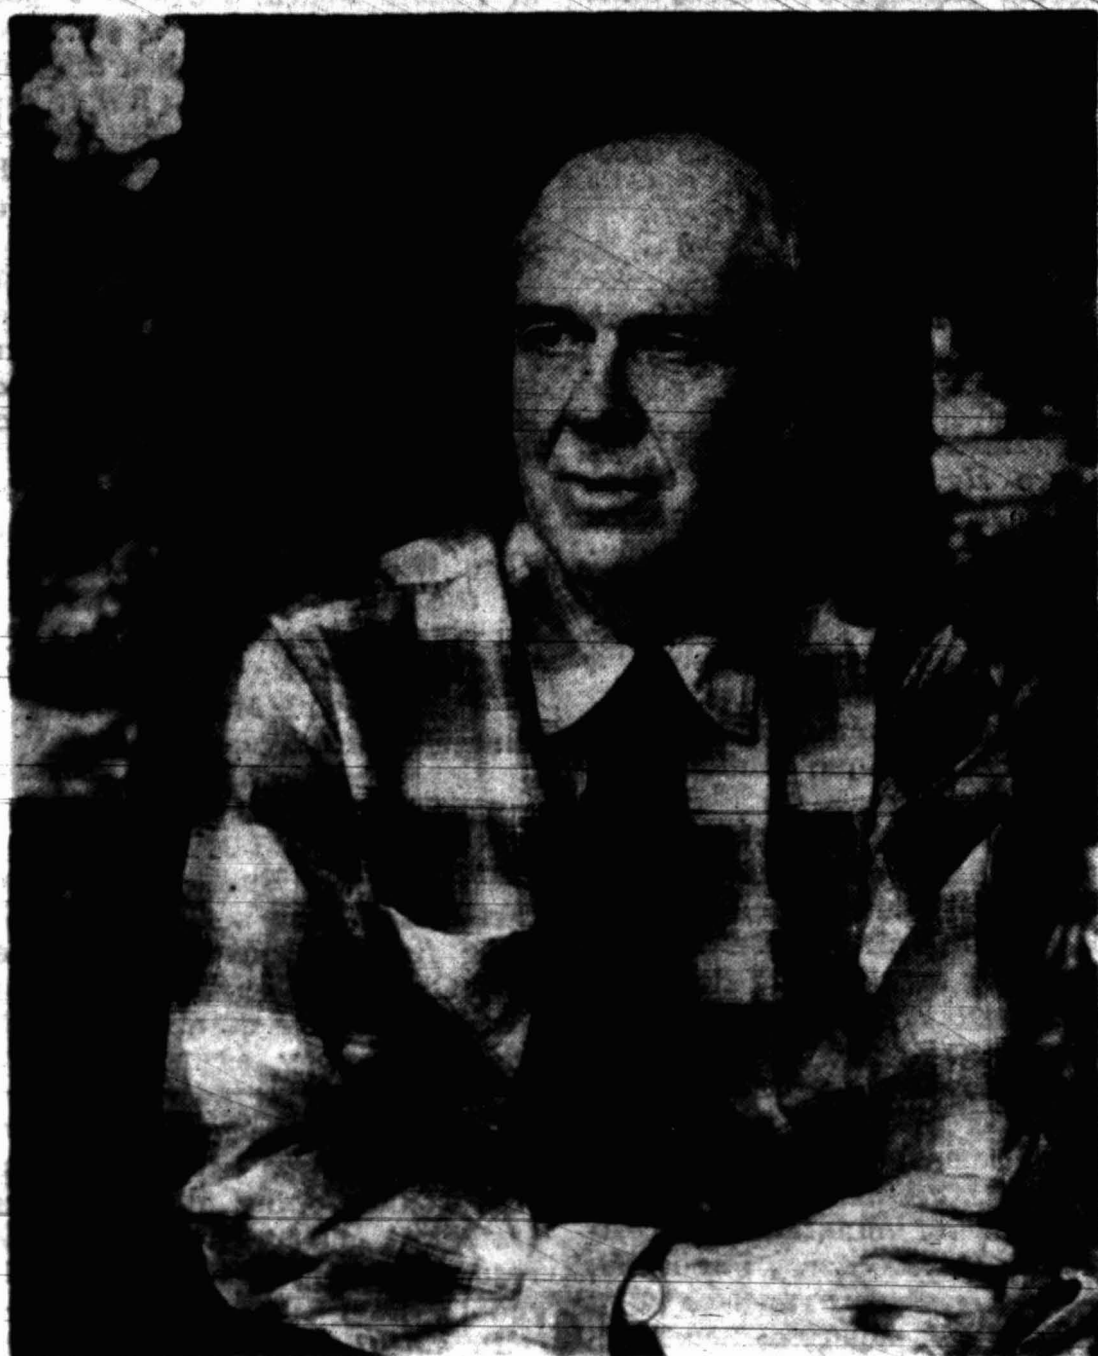

If you can improve my understanding on these two points, it may help me to be more clear in my thinking about others on which I have not made up my mind. Thank you, and thank you for the detailed reporting you have done these many weeks on the master plan.

Priscilla Nesbitt.

The detailed reporting has been Marjory Lloyd's.

The orange zone, I believe, contains the plan's most destructive elements.

Wynn Bullock, Peninsula photographer whose works are on exhibit at the M. H. de Young Museum in San Francisco, until July 22, has been recognized as one of this country's top photographers these last few years both at home and abroad.

Seaside Provides Traditional 4th, Carmel Different

Carmel traditionally is planning no formal Fourth of July celebration. As usual the beach will be filled in the evening by families picnicking until dark so that Carmel's younger citizens may set off their fireworks after the sun sets. The light of the picnic fires, the fireworks, and the dozens of small children, dancing about with sparklers sending off showers of tiny stars has been in past years one of the loveliest displays to be seen in the United States on Independence Day.

Over the hill, the City of Seaside will have the formal celebrations starting with a parade at 11:00 o'clock in the morning. More than 50 floats are entered in the parade, which will include five bands, one of which is the Fifth Army's, and 2,000 marching troops from Fort Ord.

At 1:00 o'clock the barbecue starts at the Fair grounds and continues until the expected 3,000 people are fed. A floor show will start on the outside stage at 2:30 o'clock with a dozen acts climaxed by the selection of a Miss and Mr. Physical Fitness.

In the evening 1500 square dancers will arrive from all over the State to perform in colorful squares in the Exposition Hall until midnight.

vanced photography, was born in Chicago shortly after the beginning of the century, but came to California when he was only six years old. His mother, who later became a famous judge in southern California, and the first woman appointed to the bench in that part of the state, was going to law school at the time.

Wynn went to South Pasadena High School and was something of a phenomenon. Tall and solidly built, he played football, basketball, pitched on the baseball team and was a wizard at tennis (he was runner-up for the state junior championships in this sport). In his spare time he fiddled with box cameras and sang expertly.

Deciding that he wanted to be a concert singer, he went to Columbia University in New York because it was close to the sources of top flight musical training. Shortly after his arrival on this scene he casually tried out for a job with Irving Berlin's Music Box Review, a new show then. Next thing he knew, Bullock was understudying John Steele, the lead, and shortly afterwards found himself singing Steele's role. He had, in short, arrived at the top in a Broadway show while still in his teens.

The only thing wrong with this schedule was that there was no time for academic work, and Wynn quit college without a trace of regret. He continued his voice studies with Enrico Rosati, teach-

Packed House At Plan Hearing Few Speakers

Over a hundred persons crowded into City Hall last night, and, for two hours, listened while a handful told the members of the Planning Commission what they liked and didn't like about Livingston's proposals for the city. Citizens of the eight square mile planning area will have another month to think further about the Master Plan before the second public hearing is held on August 1 at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. They may appear again then, in the city hall, to state their views on the plan or write them to the Planning Commission before the Commission sends the plan to the City Council for their consideration.

La Verne Readied For The Enhancement Of Donkey Baseball

The Carmel Lions Club have challenged the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department to a game of Donkey Baseball Sunday evening, 6:00 o'clock, at the Carmel High School Stadium.

This promises to produce more action than the community has seen from these two baseball teams in years. Though the donkeys do not hit the ball for their riders, they carry them around the bases, and isn't that what the adult league in this town has needed for some time?

The game is for the benefit of the Lions Club Youth Athletic Fund. Enthusiasm is running high among both Lions and Firemen, the latter going so far as getting into running order the old La Verne, retired ever since the purchase of the last new fire engine to a garage at La Playa Hotel.

The sight of the historic La Verne proceeding up Ocean Avenue Hill late Sunday afternoon should command enough attention to bring a crowd out to the game, though the prospect of seeing our brave fire laddies and our game civic and business leaders cavorting around a baseball diamond on donkeys should be sufficient attraction to pack the stands.

Citizens Committee Wants Plan Amended According To Constructive Criticism; See Sample Below

At the first public hearing on the proposed master plan for Carmel before the Carmel Planning Commission last night, the following official communication from the Citizens' Advisory Committee on the Master Plan was read:

"The Citizens' Advisory Committee wishes to express itself as being in favor of the Master Plan as presented by Mr. Livingston as a foundation towards a long term improvement of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and further, that the plan be amended in the light of constructive criticism.

George C. Bestor,
Chairman."

On May 18 at a meeting of the Carmel Planning Commission the following official communication from the Citizens' Committee on the Master Plan was read:

May 18, 1956

The Honorable Planning Commission
Carmel-by-the-Sea, California
Gentlemen:

Subsequent to your chairman's presenting to our committee on May 3rd, the proposed Livingston plan, we held two regular meetings on May 10th and May 17th. On both of these occasions we went into the various aspects of the plan thoroughly and gave each point a great deal of study. The general over-all of the plan, we felt, showed imagination and vision, and the plan follows a great many of this committee's recommendations. However, the committee believes that Mr. Livingston has failed to maintain that "Unique Character of Carmel" in that he has gone so far beyond the fundamental recommendations of this committee so as basically to change the entire character of Carmel from a quiet residential city to one which seemed to stress the commercial angle.

We would like to draw your attention to our report (Sec. 1, Par. B), in both findings and recommendations. These both stress that the residential nature of the city be given first and foremost consideration. Study of the Livingston Plan leads us to believe that four-

ADULT LEAGUE SOFTBALL PLAY STARTS TONIGHT

With practice sessions out of the way and players shifted to suit the fancy of rival managers, the Carmel Adult Softball League swings into official action at 7:30 tonight. First league game of the 1956 season will bring together the newly-formed Post Office-Police aggregation against Lloyd Miller's all-veteran Pro squad. The Post Office-Police team is new to the Adult League and little is known about the playing ability of the Post Office crew, but Fred Mylar has been holding special practice sessions for two weeks and the mailmen should be a help to the holdovers from the Police Department. Composed principally of teachers on the Monterey Peninsula, the Pros have been the class of the league for several years and figure to be rough to handle again this year. Not gifted with strong pitching and weak in the hitting department, the Pros rely on smart aggressive softball to overcome the power generated by the other clubs. After all, it's pretty hard to beat education.

Friday night at 7:30, the Carmel Firemen and the Lions Club cross bats in the second game of the new season. The Lions have the potential to win in a canter but like the Brooklyn Dodgers they have a thin bench and will be hard-pressed to overcome the relentless power generated by the Kelsey-led Firemen. The Firemen have a terrific one-two punch in the Roberts brothers, Ken and Bernard, who pitch smooth ball and score runs in clusters.

BIG PLAYER CHANGES IN CARMEL KIDS LEAGUE

A galaxy of new entries for Carmel's 8 to 12 year old baseball league forced directors to reshuffle the roster and change the league from a four to six-team circuit. After practice games and numerous tryout sessions, the league has been firmed up with six evenly-balanced teams, any one of which could win the title.

Next week's schedule shows Boys Town and Jim Burgess Auto Service playing at 2:00 o'clock Monday; Carmel Color and Glass Burgess Auto Service squaring off on Tuesday at 2:00 o'clock; the Wermuth Transfer and Carmel Color and Glass have at it on Thursday at 2:00; and Burgess Auto takes on the Wermuth Transfer at 2:00 o'clock on Friday.

Preliminary drills to sharpen the playing form will be held for Boys Town at 1:00 o'clock Monday, Color & Glass at 1:00 o'clock Tuesday, the Wermuth Transfer at the same time on Thursday, and for Burgess Auto at 1:00 o'clock on Friday. These practice

Mrs. Clarabut Opens Shop in Monterey

Mrs. Helene Clarabut, owner of the two Heritage Antique shops in Carmel, this week announced the opening of a third at 307 Decatur Street in Monterey.

The new Heritage Antiques will offer collections of English and American antique furniture, prints suitable for framing, lamps, copper, brass, antique china, and other furnishings.

For her Monterey shop, Mrs. Clarabut has selected a turn-of-the-century residence and repainted it a shell pink outside. The old building overlooks Fisherman's Wharf, and is close to Whaling Station Inn.

Mrs. Clarabut, an interior decorator, has practised her profession in Carmel for more than a decade, has created the decor for a number of outstanding residences on the Monterey Peninsula, and in the San Francisco Bay Area. She will supervise her Monterey shop as she does her two Carmel locations. In the Monterey Heritage Antiques, however, Mrs. Suzanne Tufts, an artist and designer, will act as manager. The rug-making classes, formerly held in the Lincoln Street shop in Carmel, now will be transferred to Monterey.

Charles Thomas Has Another Hit In High Ground

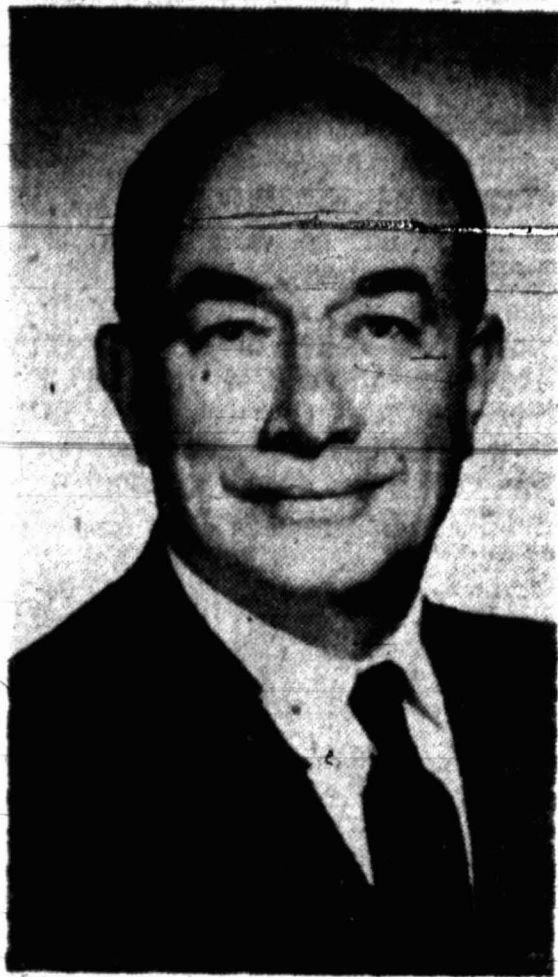

By Mary Lindsay-Cutler

High Ground by Charlotte Hastings, the first summer play for 1956 at the Golden Bough Theatre in The Round, was originally produced in London and earned a long run as an intriguing mystery; also in New York with Margaret Webster in the leading role.

The author's setting is an English village near Norwich, but for an unaccounted reason Charles Thomas, our local director, changed it to New England. This does not, however, detract from the clever play, and his cast of 11 (nine of whom are experienced troupers) is a most capable one all round. It is increasingly interesting to find how much can be given an adequate representation without the usual stage trappings. The nearness of the audience to the detachment and illusion of the actors seems to make everyone feel more a part of what is going on than is possible from a distance. It also helps toward a clearer understanding of lines and actions.

High Ground develops a plot that requires highly intelligent participants, and its mystery is so well hidden that the intensity of interest and emotion works up to an amazing climax in its solution, — a solution which is a pinnacle of achievement wrought by the intuition and spiritual perception of one woman.

Actions in the Convent Hospital are filled with human passions no less than on the outside, and Sister Mary finds life absorbing everywhere, while her individual philosophy frees her deliberations from the restraints of her calling. Played by Gertrude Chappell, the part is in most capable hands. The public has seen her here in many plays, though hardly in one more emotional. The touching scenes with the condemned artist who proves herself a highly-strung but brave and high-minded individual is played by Peg Minor, who dominates the situation throughout as a strong and dignified star for whom the audience pours its sympathy. Florence Venn

Sam Coleman retires from American Trust Company's Carmel Bank tomorrow to conclude a 39-year banking career. A dinner was held in his honor on Tuesday with nine of his banking friends from Monterey County and San Francisco in attendance.

Coleman, a native of Almonte, Ontario, Canada, has lived in Monterey County most of his life. He was educated in Salinas public schools and joined the staff of the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank in King City on February 13, 1917.

With the outbreak of World War I, he enlisted in the Army, served for a year, and then returned to the bank at King City. He rose to Assistant Manager and Assistant Cashier at that office and in 1943 was appointed Assistant Manager at the Carmel office.

Coleman is a member of the American Legion, Masons, Order of the Eastern Star, Carmel Lions Club, and Woodmen of the World, and has been identified with many civic activities both in King City and Carmel.

He and Mrs. Coleman, the former Reene Dudley, have two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Tumbleson and Mrs. Gladys Burns, and nine grandchildren. The Colemans' plans for the near future include a trip east.

as the amusing Irish Sister Josephine supplies the comedy and laughs, also Ruth Ware as Martha Pentridge, Robert Martinson as Dr. Jeffreys, Polly Bowhay as the Mother Superior, Charles Dery as Melling and Jacqueline Grossman as Nurse Phillips all play up their situations with histrionic spontaneity. Michel McKay as Miss Pierce, and Katherine McFee as Nurse Brent fill their first roles with much credit to them, an outstanding new talent is Lewis Perkins in the part of the village idiot (so-called). His conception, facial expressions, spontaneous actions and strong personality were highlights of all the acting.

Director Charles Thomas has scored another hit. He is assisted by a staff of confident helpers all of whom are to be congratulated on this latest contribution to the local theatre, timed to continue to July 29.

Cameraman Bullock Explored Far Afield To Arrive At His Medium

er of Gigli, and then with Eugene Wagner in Paris, leading coach and accompanist for Fritz Kreisler, Pablo Casals, and Roland Hayes.

Wynn arrived in Paris first in '26 and stayed abroad for a number of years, giving a series of concerts in France and then going on to Italy to study with Tito Schipa's teacher. An ex-student of the great Brahms, in Berlin, was the next maestro to add polish to Bullock's singing.

While living on the Left Bank in Paris, Bullock had begun to take more and more pictures. He had also become interested in the way Cezanne was developing third dimensional feeling in his paintings. Cezanne was preoccupied with light and Bullock found he was likewise.

In 1931, with the depression in full swing, Bullock returned permanently to the United States and managed real estate property in West Virginia for several years. Having decided that he could be a good musical comedy singer but not a truly great concert artist, Bullock, with his characteristic impatience with anything short of perfection, decided to give up the stage. During his spare time he went back to college and got his degree at the University of West Virginia. He took more and more pictures to satisfy his restless artistic yearning for expression.

In 1937, dissatisfied, he came to California, with the intent of going to law school. Then one day, he made a momentous decision. He was interested in pictures and light — light and pictures — and that was what he would work with.

He entered the Los Angeles Art Center, and under the guidance of Edward Kaminski, began to study in earnest what he had been doing for fun. Kaminski urged experimentation on his students and Bullock began his experiments with solarization of light. At the end of his schooling the Exposition Park Museum gave a one-man showing of his work. Bullock was never one to have to wait long for recognition.

In 1940 he opened his own studio in Los Angeles and ran it for several years, then took over the photographic concession at Camp Cooke. With the advent of war, Bullock, though over-age, enlisted and soon became a sergeant in charge of much of the photo work in an all-camouflage battalion. By this time Cal Tech had become interested in his work with solarization of light and asked the Army to release him. The plan was for Wynn to become head of all the photographic departments at Douglas Aircraft. As was common in the confusion during this period, he ended up at Lockheed instead.

He had married in the meanwhile and when he was offered a contract to take over the photographic concession at Fort Ord in 1946, he decided to try it. So the couple bought a house trailer and stayed in it for a year cautiously, before deciding that this move was for good.

Bullock made his impression on photographic critics as far back as 1942, when he was selected for representation in U.S. Camera's Annual. After the war, Bullock decided to go in strictly for contact printing, to preserve a pure retention of his efforts.

He feels that there is still no real market for creative photography in this country although one may be slowly developing. Wynn points out that most people have become so inured to reproduction that it is hard for them to appreciate the value of an original piece of work over a copy. While magazines have gone ahead in photo-journalism in this country, the other media have not, he adds.

He feels that in a good picture the on-looker should not be aware of the technique employed, but only of the mood and the visual message carried. Composition, tone, subject matter and personal interpretation combine to create a meaningful picture — all elements are there and fused.

Bullock has had shows throughout the country including one at

Planning Commission Says Five "Yeses" One "No" In Session

At its meeting yesterday afternoon, the Carmel Planning Commission said yes to the following requests: Anne H. Bosworth's to enclose a carport, making a garage, on her property on Carmelo Street north of Ocean Avenue; Dr. A. K. Merchant's to establish a building site by combining parts of two lots on his property on Scenic Drive; Keith Evans to make minor changes to the Plaza Fuel building he is moving from its present site to Junipero Street.

They approved B. W. Hill's plans on an eight apartment building on the east side of Dolores Street between Third and Fourth Avenues, provided he increases off-street parking from five to six spaces, and improves the appearance of a high wall on the northwest corner of the structure so that it meets with the approval of the architectural matters committee of the commission. Ernest Schweninger was granted permission to make a rear addition to the Ocean Avenue building occupied by Derek Rayne.

The Land Use subcommittee was instructed to consider recommendations on additions to Carmel Meadows subdivision and report back to the Planning Commission on July 18.

The commission recommended that the city council deny Kenneth Brown's request for an additional sign at his Village Inn since he already has more than the legal limit of sign footage.

Rices In San Diego

Paul and Valeta Rice and two of the children, Karen and Paul, have returned from San Diego where they attended a national square dance convention. Valeta was on the program for one call and Paul called three.

Limelight, the photographic gallery in New York — but the thing that pleases him most, besides his children and home, is that after a lifetime of searching he has found what he conceives to be the right outlet for his creative energies and that his recognition this time has been genuinely earned and merited.

School Budget Calls For 5 Cent Tax Hike

The Carmel Unified School District Board, meeting Tuesday night, approved a tentative budget that will increase school district taxes five cents over last year's. This is in addition to the six cents more or less that will be added to the tax bill for the school bonds the voters approved in May.

Total budget $657,415; tax rate, $1.87.

The five cent additional tax will be levied to provide for the district's contribution to the certified employees retirement fund.

The budget will be published legally in the Pine Cone issue of July 26. A public hearing on it will be called before the tax rate is officially set. Anyone who thinks it will do any good, may attend and protest.

The board instructed School Superintendent Stuart Mitchell to notify Bert Dienelt, owner of the land adjacent to River School which the board wishes to purchase for play field, of its intention of starting condemnation proceedings.

Dienelt wants $5000 per acre; the board has offered $2500.

Fly To Jerusalem

Hisham and Carolyn Nuseibeh (Carolyn Doney) should arrive in Jerusalem this week as passengers on a plane specially built and designed in the United States for the Shah of Iran. A friend of Hisham's brother, called on the young couple at their home in Berkeley, and, when he found they were hoping to make a trip to Jordan, Hisham's homeland, asked them if they would like to accompany him when he delivered the Shah's plane. Hisham and Carolyn seized the opportunity to fly as far as Jerusalem and left on June 18. They expect to remain in Jordan for two years while Hisham, an architecture graduate from the University of California, is engaged in architectural and construction projects in his homeland.

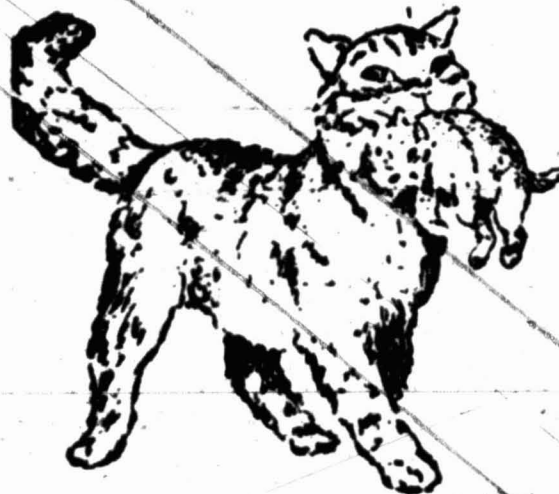

Carolyn, his wife, is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Carl S. Doney of San Francisco and Carmel, and the niece of Hal Boyd of Carmel Highlands. She attended Monterey and Burlingame High Schools and the University of California, graduating from the latter this month. She met her husband on the Berkeley campus. At Cal, Carolyn was editor of Occident, active in International House programs, and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. The past few weeks she has been busy studying Arabic preparing for her life in Jordan.

Colonel and Mrs. Doney entertained at a bon voyage cocktail party for Carolyn and Hisham at Treasure Island Officers' Club on June 17 the day before their departure.

"How old am I?"

asks Mrs. Rollin E. Jaberg
2169 Green St., San Francisco

Time was when many women used to hide their age . . . but nowadays they're apt to boast about it! One reason — and a big one: modern appliances. They're freeing women everywhere from chores that used to make them too old too soon.

Take Mrs. Jaberg, who lets appliances handle much of her work. Hard to believe, but she's actually 60 years old.

How about you? Are you increasing the staff of automatic appliances in your home? Remember, with P. G. and E.'s low rates for gas and electricity, you can run a whole household all day long for just about half the price of most lipsticks.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
C. Edward Graves
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

THE ARMY AND CONSERVATION

Several incidents have occurred recently that are causing conservationists to question seriously whether the military mind can ever have a purely objective approach to the vital problem of safeguarding our natural resources. This statement of doubt would seem to apply to both the Army Engineers, who certainly in the planning of their engineering works are closely concerned with conservation, and to other military units which casually come into contact with conservation problems.

In U. S. News and World Report for April 27 of this year appeared an interview with Lieut. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, Jr., Chief of the Army Engineers, on the subject, "Will Water Become Scarce?". I spent three hours on the Del Monte Express the other day reading and pondering it. There is that much food for thought in it. In one weekly column I can't comment on very much of it but I should like to point out briefly two apparent insincerities in it.

One continual point of contact between the Army Engineers, who are interested mainly in down stream water projects, and soil and water conservationists, whose primary interest is in watershed developments, is in the work of the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture. In 1954 with President Eisenhower's enthusiastic backing the Hope-Aiken Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act was passed. Through this Act Government help was promised and offered to local groups interested in "holding the rainwater where it falls", thus conserving water for the farmer and preventing erosion of soil. The Soil Conservation Service was given the job of administering this Act.

Gen. Sturgis says in his interview: "The Corps of Engineers has always supported strongly this soil conservation program, primarily because we recognize the great value of the soil of the nation and we want to keep it out of our reservoirs as well." As a questioning of the sincerity of this statement, news has just come that in a hearing before the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry the Army Engineers sent representatives who tried to block approval of 11 of the first 13 small watershed projects submitted by the Department of Agriculture under the 1954 law. They levelled a variety of criticisms at them and even questioned the engineering soundness of certain proposed structures. That certainly doesn't sound like "supporting strongly" the soil conservation program.

Another evidence of insincerity in Gen. Sturgis' interview is his statement about the controversial

Tuttle Creek Dam in Kansas, which will destroy the beautiful and fertile Blue River Valley. This is opposed by nearly all conservation groups who favor flood prevention at the watershed level. Gen. Sturgis states that the majority of the people of Kansas are now in favor of the dam. As refutation of the truth of that remark I should like to quote the recent statement of Rep. Avery of Kansas before a House Committee that the Kansas State Legislature is officially on record as being opposed to the construction of this dam. Gen. Sturgis would appear to be rationalizing here.

Space limitations prevent my giving other evidences of Army Engineer insincerity. An article in the Saturday Evening Post of May 26, They Tamed Their Floods, will give some evidence to this effect. As for the attitude of other military units on conservation, I intend to discuss in my next column two current controversies before Congress involving these units.

Hinshaw To Conduct Summer Field Trip Nature Study Course

The Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History and the Pacific Grove Adult School in a joint effort are sponsoring a nature study course for the summer.

Taught by Merton E. Hinshaw, Curator of the Museum, the course will be held on eight Saturday afternoons. These four-hour periods will be spent acquainting the class with our peninsula environment. The classroom will be out of doors from Peninsula beaches and Point Lobos to Chew's Ridge. Subjects to be covered are birds, mammals, marine biology, geology, botany and anthropology.

Adults, and children accompanied by adults, will be enrolled. Transportation pools are to be arranged as needed. The first class meets at the Museum, 12:30 noon, on July 7, with registration at that time.

The usual adult school fee of $1.00 for the course will be charged. For further information call 2-4212 or 2-6726.

Dorothy Renzi Sings Sunday In San Juan Mission Festival

The summer festival of music of the San Juan Bautista Mission opened Sunday and will continue with programs of old Mission music each Sunday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock until August 26.

Two San Francisco soloists, on alternating Sundays, will participate with the Mission Choristers. The music that the Mission Choristers will sing is taken from the two books of manuscripts at San Juan Bautista Mission written by Padre Tapis about 150 years ago. Padre Tapis, a noted musical Franciscan, taught the Indians to sing these masses and chants so beautifully that San Juan Bautista Mission became known as the Mission of Music.

Dorothy Renzi, soprano, who recently appeared with the Hartnell College Choir and the San Francisco Little Symphony in the Berkeley and San Francisco performances of the Easter Cantata by Alan Hovhaness, and also with the Monterey County Symphony in the same work, will be the soloist on July 1.

The public is invited to attend these Sunday afternoon concerts and visit the Old San Juan Mission grounds and museum. There will be a conducted tour and a historical lecture about the California Missions at 2:00 o'clock preceding the concert. A donation of $1.00 will be taken for the San Juan Mission Restoration Fund, to restore the outside naves of the Mission Church which crumbled during the earthquake of 1906.

A telephone helps plan for pleasure

Here's a picture of a family starting a pleasant weekend vacation trip. And here's how they planned it. His wife called the sports shop to see that their tennis rackets were restringed. She phoned the cleaners, too, about that suit she wanted to wear. And they arranged, by telephone, for the neighbors to feed the cat. He called ahead for reservations and they're off. Sure, this is a special occasion. But even if it's everyday, the telephone is always ready to do so many things, so quickly, and with so much convenience. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

Like to take a trip at $0.0008 a mile?

If you could journey across the nation at the rate of eight-hundredths of a cent a mile, you'd say it was pretty low-cost traveling, wouldn't you? Well, it costs no more to send your voice traveling cross country from right here in town. For only $2.00 plus tax—that's the station-to-station rate after six o'clock on weekdays and all day Sunday—you can have a friendly three-minute telephone visit that will bridge as many as three thousand miles. Isn't there someone who would like to hear the sound of your voice tonight?

In Touch With The Military

Pictured is Richard A. Johnston, Camp Telephone Manager for the Monterey Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. He is shown in one of the three Telephone Centers we maintain for the convenience of our military personnel at Fort Ord.

These Telephone Centers are operated by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph employees in conjunction with the Army. Our attendants give information and help on all local and long distance phone calls. The centers also have the latest magazines, writing material, and lounge facilities for them to enjoy while waiting for their calls to be placed and carried through. This is another of the many things your local Telephone Company provides in their never ending endeavor for service and convenience.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thorburg
Our story hours this summer will be done in cooperation with the city recreation program. On Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock there will be a story hour at Woods School playground, and on Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock the story hour will be held at River School playground. Please send your children to the schools at these hours to enjoy stories told by Mrs. Pauline Heisinger, our Children's Librarian.

The summer reading program got off to a good start last Saturday morning. It is to be called the Magic Carpet Reading Club. A group of enthusiastic joiners met at the library and stayed to read awhile after the meeting was over. Working with children is one of the most enjoyable phases of librarianship. We were happy to welcome them and hope that many more will join as vacation leisure gets to be the accustomed thing. We want these children to read books because they enjoy reading, or are learning to enjoy reading, and to make friends with the books they read. For this reason we like to have them take the books home and associate with them closely. The idea is not to see how many books they can romp through, to add more titles to their reading scores, but rather to read them at a reasonable rate and enjoy them as they go along.

This library will have a copy of the Livingston Plan for Carmel on file here, and those who have not been able to obtain a copy for reading may come in and use this one. It will be treated as a reference book and used only within the library.

For those who are vacation minded we have a really opportune book entitled Shopping Guide to Mexico, Guatemala, and the Caribbean. This is an easy-reading-easy-finding book. You first look under the place you are interested in, and then under the items you wish to buy. It's that simple! If you are vacationing at home, we have for you The Wonderful World of the Seashore, by Albro Gaul. Here is adventuring in our nearby beaches and tidepools.

Living Like a Lord is the engaging title of a book by Eton John Godley VI, Lord Kilbracken. The book is his autobiography and it is enjoyable because he is a journalist and writes interestingly.

The new book by Henry Miller of Big Sur is called The Time of the Assassins, and is the story of Rimbaud, The Fiction Factory, or From Pulp Row to Quality Street, by Quentin Reynolds is the history of the famous publishing house Street and Smith. They began before the turn of the century with Horatio Alger, Jr., Buffalo Bill, and Nick Carter, and today they publish such magazines as Mademoiselle, Charm, and Living. This is the story of the men and women who wrote for Street and Smith, and of the popular stories of their times.

The Sea Wolves is the story of German U-boats at War, and was written by Wolfgang Frank concerning the early years of World War II. The events which led to World War I are related by Ludwig Bemmers in The Lamps Went Out in Europe. Both of these books were written in German and translated into the editions we have here.

There are several more to go out next week, including three novels. The earlier you sign for them the sooner you will get them.

Schuttishes Return

Helen and Clayton Schuttish returned to Carmel for a ten-day vacation ending on Thursday. Clayton was shop teacher at both Sunset and Carmel High Schools until he left ten years ago to take a similar position with the Concord school system.

With Helen and Clayton were three of their four children, Jennifer, 15, Tommy, ten, and Mary Ann, four. John, the Schuttish's older son, 13 years old, was camping in King's Canyon and unable to share in the family's Carmel vacation on 5,000 acre Junipero Serra Ranch at the headwaters of San Jose Creek.

Formerly known as Palo Corona Ranch and part of the Stephen Field holdings, Junipero Serra Ranch, was purchased last fall by the Carter Bros. Lumber Co. Helen's sister is married to one of the members of the firm. The approach to Junipero Serra goes inland five miles over the Oppenheimer ranch road, then branches westward into the redwood canyon at the head of San Jose Creek, passes through wild, almost virgin, timber country to the two log houses built by Stephen Field. There is a barn for horses and swimming pool on the property as well as the two large houses. The Schuttishes enjoyed exploring the surrounding country, fishing in the streams, and just relaxing in the sun around the pool during their ten days stay in the "back country", ten miles from Carmel.

Stamp Club Auction Monday

Colonel L. H. Caruthers, presiding over the last meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club, announced that the next meeting will be an auction to be held in the Carmel High School at 8:00 o'clock on Monday evening.

At the last program meeting, Nicholas A. Hall, instructor in the French department of the Army Language School, gave a scholarly talk on French stamps. This talk was illustrated with charts depicting the evolution of the stamp from its first mention in the book of Job in the Bible, on through Egyptian history and Sir Rowland Hill who started England's famous "Penny Black," through the various French governments down to the present day.

Door prizes were awarded to Colonel L. H. Caruthers and Mrs. Enos M. Cabell. Hall also donated packages of French stamps to the club for distribution.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. L. H. "Peggy" Caruthers. Among the visitors were M. Kelly from the Navy School and Timothy Haagstrom from Pebble Beach.

All stamp collectors and their friends are invited to attend the auction on Monday evening. Bring your duplicates, your best stamps and bid for the other fellow's best.

Pupils Present Program

Mary Lindsay-Oliver is presenting some of her vocal students and one piano student at her studio (immediately opposite the Church of The Wayfarer) at 4:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and will welcome anyone who is interested. The program includes a variety of compositions with arias from oratorio and opera, and an excerpt from The New Day, Miss Lindsay-Oliver's major opus dedicated to World Peace. Those taking part in the program are Valerie Hattery, Richard Turner, Joanne Schoenbrod, Lewis Perkins, Sascha Wilcox, Joan Jenkins, David Schoenbrod and Marcia Hadden-Pratt. Simple refreshment will be served after the program.

Honors At Yale

George (Danny) Marshall, graduated from Carmel High School a year ago and at the end of his freshman year at Yale has made the Dean's list, in the ninety-first percentile classification, with honor grades in mathematics, music, French and chemistry. Danny returned home two weeks ago to spend the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Marshall. During his high school years he was assistant organist at All Saints' Church.

Kurt Transferred

Kurt von Meier is serving the last few weeks of his two year Navy duty aboard the U.S.S. Mount McKinley, berthed in San Diego. He expects to have leave for the whole month of July and is planning to come home to Carmel for that length of time before reporting back to his ship for the month of August. Then he will be released and return to his studies at the University of California which were interrupted by his Navy service at the end of his sophomore year.

Tyermans Attend Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Tyerman have returned from Southern California where they attended the graduation of their youngest son, Laurence, from Los Angeles Junior College. He received his associate of arts degree and a scholarship award from the Security First National Bank. Laurence has entered training at the bank in the executive department.

The Tyerman's met their new grandson, Laurie, Jr. at the same time. He was born on June 4. They also visited with other members of their family before returning to Carmel.

Off To Nova Scotia

Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw Williams and their children, Alice and Boz, left last week for a summer at their farm, Plaster Head, at Baddeck, Nova Scotia.

Abernethys To Santa Barbara

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Abernethy arrived back in Carmel on Monday after ten days in Santa Barbara where they visited Miss Carrie Abernethy, sister of Mr. Abernethy, and drove around the countryside, appreciating the perfect weather. Each day Mr. Abernethy played golf at the Montecito Country Club.

Smith-Clark Rogue River Trip

Mr. and Mrs. F. Robert Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark returned to Carmel on Thursday evening from Oregon where they had spent five days going down the Rogue River from Grants Pass to Gold Beach, where the Rogue enters the Pacific Ocean. The Smiths and the Clarks were the first people to take the trip this year in the specially built flat-bottomed, high-bowed river boats designed to shoot the rapids and navigate the rough water. Floods this winter had changed the course of the Rogue in some places and the apprehension of the guides as they approached unfamiliar territory added to the spirit of adventure in the wilderness country, according to Lili Smith. "We saw bear tracks everywhere", she reports, "but no bears, and we specially wanted some pictures of them on the 400 feet of colored film we used during the trip." In spite of no bear pictures, both the Smiths and the Clarks think that their days on the Rogue were the best vacation they could have. "You get completely away from everything," says Lili, "the country is magnificent and the excitement of shooting the rapids simply wonderful."

McBrides Off To Meet Boat

Mrs. Viola McBride and her youngest son, Andy, stopped in their Carmel house on Monday on their way south to San Pedro. There Mrs. McBride will take over the sailing vessel which she has had built to her specifications in Norway. Then, with a crew, she and Andy will sail the boat up the coast to San Francisco where they will keep it temporarily, moving it later farther up the coast to Eureka, where they live.

DAR Awards

Zenia Kastor, Carmel High School senior, is the winner of the silver thimble, given by the Commodore Sloat Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for excellence in sewing. Earlier in the year Toni Hamilton won the Good Citizen's pin awarded by the chapter. Karin Rice and Ina Adams, juniors, received gifts for their entries of clothing made in school sewing classes and exhibited at the State D.A.R. Conference in March.

Cynthia Louise Korkis Is Here

Mr. and Mrs. Faradj Habib Korkis are the parents of a baby girl, Cynthia Louise, born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on June 21. Cynthia weighed seven pounds, five ounces at birth. Her mother taught mathematics and was librarian at Carmel High School last year, and her father is a member of the Arabic department at the Army Language School. Grandparents of the new baby are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Russell of San Diego and Habib Korkis of Baghdad, Iraq.

Jim Miller Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Stone of San Leandro announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Louise, to James Irwin Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Miller of Carmel.

Barbara and Jim met at the University of California from which Jim graduated this month with a bachelor's degree in business administration. Before going to Cal Jim attended Carmel High School. He is awaiting Navy orders at present and when they arrive will be commissioned as an ensign. He has one sister, Mrs. Eugene Betz of Akron, Ohio, and a brother, Perry Miller of Carmel.

Barbara Wemmer Weds

Barbara Wemmer, daughter of Mrs. Phillips Davies, will be married on Saturday afternoon to Lewis J. Stone of Fremont, Michigan. The ceremony takes place at 4:30 o'clock in the Church of the Wayfarer with the reception following at Del Monte Lodge.

Rathbuns Start To Realize Dream

Virginia and Alvin Rathbun have always wanted to live in Carmel. Virginia is a North Carolina girl and Al is from New England. Last winter they purchased land on San Carlos between Thirteenth and Santa Lucia Streets and built two houses. One they rent, one they occupy weekends with their two blue-eyed, blonde daughters, Vicky and Susie. The girls are both pre-schoolers but confirmed lovers of Carmel and already adept at climbing oak trees.

Al, a 1950 Stanford graduate, is at present accountant for the Palo Alto Co-operatives but plans to re-enter Stanford in the fall for two years in Business School. Although the Rathbuns will make their home in Palo Alto during this time they hope to come to Carmel as often as possible for vacations in their new house and perhaps, eventually, occupy it permanently and advance from the weekend to the full-time Carmelite status.

Letters To The Editor...

Editor of the Pine Cone:

I would appreciate your printing the inclosed poem. It was recited at a bon voyage party given by Don Clappett's square dancing friends at the home of C. S. Mast. The author prefers to remain anonymous.

TO DON CLAPPETT—June 1956
Don always seems so gay!

Surprising?
For years he's never been away!
Constant grinding—helping clients
Finding perfect sites or homes.
Many problems on his mind!
At long last his vacation!!
Great news — big sensation!!!
Carmel a spell with no Don Clappett??

He'll be missed!
(More mists to damp it.)
Don'll be breathing new air everywhere.

Making whoopee when he wants—
Paris dives — exotic haunts?
Flying south, north, west and east.

Shooting golf on Scottish greens,
Peeping in on Russian scenes?
(Bet he flirts with Hula skirts?)
He'll come home refreshed,
Well stocked with tales—
Regale his many friends
In little old Carmel!

June 25, 1956.
The Pine Cone:
Re: Master Plan
Mr. Livingston's statement at a recent meeting: "of course Carmel needs a heart," only goes to show he feels it does not have one at present.

If he is insensitive enough to harbor such a feeling, how can he possibly be the man to design the Carmel of the future?

As for the Junipero Speedway, heaven forbid!

Yours very truly,
Concerned Carmelite.

National Parks Association,
Washington 7, D.C.
June 25, 1956

Hon. Charles M. Teague,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Teague:
I understand that you are advocating a deal by which certain land in the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation will be exchanged for land in the Los Padres National Forest. I should like to know more about this proposed exchange. Who first suggested it and what were the motives behind it? Are both the officers of the Reservation and the Forest Service in favor of it? Where can I get a map showing the exact areas involved?

Very sincerely,
G. Edward Graves,
Western Representative.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Man's God-given right of self-government will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God."

Gideon's answer to the men of Israel, who asked him to rule over them will be included in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible (Judges 8:23): "And Gideon said unto them, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: the Lord shall rule over you."

The basis of proper self-government will be emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following: (106:7): "God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience. Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his Maker, divine Truth and Love."

The Time Has Come

By Kippy Stuart

"Everybody knows more than somebody else." You know by this time that the above wise crack is my theme song. Every day I discover how little I know and how much the fellow down the street knows, and I will repeat ad nauseam that I learn more from people than I ever learned in college or from books.

My annoyance at this sitting is delphiniums. For years, I have raised delphiniums, superb ones that flowered time and again during the summer season. I have been known to scoff at those who decried the difficulty in raising delphiniums, by explaining in lordly manner, the simple culture necessary for delphiniums. In fact, I've felt myself being a bit superior about the matter, that is, until right now. I have practically fallen on my face.

I have my usual quota of delphiniums selected from high-grade Pacific Pride strain. They have been taken care of in every way I know; sprayed, fertilized, and in harvesting blooms, the stalks cut to the ground. (This cutting business is supposed to prevent mildew and "browning," that curse of our gardens, called "brown-spot, or browning.") Is that so? What did it prevent this year to my flock of delphiniums? Here I am, with the season hardly begun and what does my wondering eye behold but a mess of dead-beat looking plants, bedraggled, rotting at the root and saying adios in no uncertain manner! And what can I say to my neighbor down the street... the fellow in former years who knew my superiority about delphiniums.

My neighbor had his revenge, a kindly revenge, with a grin and "tongue-in-cheek," attitude. Said he:

"Kippy, I know you have an order this week to fill for delphiniums, won't you come into my garden and gather what you need?"

Elayne Lavrans' Pupils Play

Elayne Lavrans (Mrs. James Hopper) presented ten of her piano pupils in a recital at the Charles Sumner Greene studio on Saturday afternoon. Selected to play this year were Shelly and Karen Arndt, Stephanie Liese, Caroline Berry, Julie Campbell, Ellen McKelvey, Jennie Keith Hill, Gary Bradburn, Nancy Lofton and John Durein.

Following the program, Mrs. Hopper entertained parents and friends at an informal reception. Those helping her were Mrs. Herb Vial, Mrs. Ted Roberts, Mrs. Joe Gall, Mrs. John Ruster, Mrs. R. A. Kocher and J. P. Gilbert.

The recital given by Mrs. Hopper's pupils is especially anticipated each year as it is held in the Greene studio, the center of many early day Carmel musical events, literary gatherings, and informal lectures and parties. The building was designed and built by Mr. Greene, recognized as one of the architects who laid the foundations of modern building techniques and design. He also designed and constructed much of the beautiful furniture in the spacious room.

Miss Allcutt Glad To Be Home

"Carmel looks wonderful!" says Miss Elizabeth Allcutt returning home from a ten day stay in Palo Alto where she had a physical checkup at the Clinic and visited with old friends. "Palo Alto was lovely, too," she continued, "but it can't compare with Carmel."

Packed House At Master Plan Hearing

which tell of the planted islands blocking streets and forming a "ring" development.

Mrs. Ransome also wanted to know if he was allowing paying guests in guest cottages. Livingston replied "We have not yet prepared the ordinance, but recommend four paying guests for single family homes in the residence district." This number did not affect the nature of the residence district his office felt.

Barnet Segal, estimated that the cost of developing parking lots according to Livingston's plan would cost five to five and a half million dollars. Added to this would be the large amounts necessary for planned school development in the future and the civic center.

"In 25 years" he continued, "what are you going to do about the overflow of cars from the planned parking lots, raze the rest of the buildings in the business district?" Segal estimated that in 25 years his figures, based on present land values, would double. Livingston answered that it was impossible to establish the price of the plan development. Variables, such as real estate values, could not be estimated. He suggested the five or six year county-city capital improvement programs instituted in some areas as feasible for Carmel.

Fred Keeble wanted the plan adopted. He is worried about the areas about Carmel which are developing rapidly and foresees a "traffic muddle" in which "no one can get anywhere" if Livingston's traffic flow plans are not adopted. Gladys Johnston supported Keeble in his plea for adoption of the plan. She approved Livingston's proposal of making Junipero Street a collector thruway. The Livingston plan "is a nucleus" for Carmel planning, she said, "let's go all out in preserving Carmel through the plan. We could get no better planner than Mr. Livingston. Let us be guided by him."

Mrs. Priscilla Nesbitt and Mrs. Fred McNulty also spoke in favor of adopting Livingston's plan. Mrs. Nesbitt thought the plan showed "considerable vision and imagination." She approved the re-organization of business district use. Mrs. McNulty felt that the proposed plan was not "more drastic than what has happened to Carmel in the past ten years."

Henry Newman defended the plan, too. "Regulate progress don't stop it," he advised. Rollo Payne was in favor of the plan "if it is not adopted it will be a grave mistake," he stated. Mrs. Dolly Gawain was of the same opinion as was Mrs. Chase Drake who announced she was "proselytizing for the plan." Laszlo Toldi was a supporter of the plan in regards to closing Ocean Avenue to traffic.

Edward Kuster, opposing the plan, said that last night was only the first time he would have something to say publicly about the undesirability of the closing of Ocean Avenue to traffic. The approach to the city through a heavy industry zone on Junipero street "is a disgrace," he commented, objecting to visitors to Carmel coming past lumber yards, laundries, laundromats, etc. to enter the city. The drastic change in closing Ocean Avenue would create "chaos in property values" was his opinion. We need the tourist, he felt, but not to the extent of making Ocean Avenue "a desert without cars."

Mrs. Jeanie Klenke objected to abolishing landmarks in the city for parking lots. She liked the beautiful approach to the town down Ocean Avenue with the pines in the foreground and the ocean beyond and the "woody" atmosphere of Junipero Street, and wanted these features retained. Mary Lindsay-Oliver, speaking as an artist, deplored the proposed changes as illogical and inartistic. Arthur Hull wanted the citizens to have a chance to vote on the Livingston plan, to show definitely whether there is support for it or not, "a broader expression." Reginald Machado was concerned with what would happen to property desired to develop the northern Junipero approach. "How many lots would be acquired," was his demand of Planner Livingston. The answer was four lots.

J. O. Handley announced he is the largest payer of sales tax in Carmel and a resident of 32 years' standing. He doesn't like the plan. He doesn't want Carmel to be developed like any town in Oklahoma or Texas and that is what Handley felt the "blue spot" town hall plan at the head of a closed Ocean Avenue Mall would make of Carmel.

"We don't want someone from outside to tell us what we want" stated Handley, "we know what we want."

"Would you have liked this plan 25 or 30 years ago?" he asked the audience. To a "No" response Handley said, "why should Carmel be like Monterey, Salinas or Palo Alto, cities with master plans. Monterey's of 22 years standing and almost disregarded."

Mr. Livingston was the "best" planner the Planning Commission could obtain he did not doubt, "but I'm not so sure we needed one of such capacity," was his opinion. "Carmel should sidestep gracefully the proposed Livingston plan and continue on its own."

A Miss Brawley, whose first name escaped the Planning Commission secretary, remarked that the Livingston plan embodied "muscle bound thinking." "A psychological idea is sweeping over the country," she continued, "shopping centers such as planned for Carmel are going to be all over this country. They are efficient but set planning. Won't such a set-plan center grafted on to the natural setting and beauty of Carmel, change it?" she queried. Mrs. Josephine Root, Nancy Johnston and Mrs. Eloise Dyer spoke against the changes to Carmel in the plan.

"I don't want to be in a goldfish bowl Carmel on exhibit to dawdling tourists who ought to be at home," said Mrs. Root.

The hearing opened with reading written communications: a statement from the citizens' committee (see story on page one) and a letter from Gordon Campbell protesting the conversion of Junipero into a four lane major thoroughfare and the enlargement of the commercial area through the spilling over of the multiple dwelling zone (orange zone) into the residence district.

Citizens Committee Wants Plan Amended

ist activity would be greatly increased by the creation of a Shopper's Mall on the present Ocean Avenue with 2,000 parking stalls adjacent. This would, in our opinion, create three business centers, Ocean Avenue Mall, Fifth Street, and Seventh Street, causing a great deal of inconvenience to residents. Our suggestions for closing Ocean Avenue from block to block would, we felt, create a quiet promenade where the residents could walk and meet their friends while shopping for the necessities of life. We also felt that the scenic beauty of Ocean Avenue would be enhanced without parked cars marring its entire vista.

Our recommendations for a buffer zone were very pointed in that our report states (Sec. 2, Par. D), "That this buffer zone should lie within the limits of the present commercial zone and only under extraordinary conditions should it be permitted to extend more than one-half block beyond the present limits of the commercial zone." Our committee is of the opinion that the creation of a buffer zone as large as is shown on the Livingston Plan would upset the balance between residential and business, and allowing the intrusion of motels and hotels into our present residential district would increase rather than hold to the size of our present commercial zone.

The Livingston Plan proposes to close to cross-town traffic Mission, San Carlos, Dolores and Lincoln streets. This would throw 12 lanes of traffic on two streets, namely, Junipero and Monte Verde, the latter street having only a 50-foot right-of-way. This would put an extremely heavy burden on Junipero requiring at least four lanes of high-speed traffic. Our report on traffic (Sec. 6, Par. A), shows an entirely different concept of the treatment of Junipero. It recommends the retention of the present rustic beauty of that street, and that the center planting be retained in the south section, and replanted on the north side of Ocean Avenue. This committee believes that the Livingston Plan would divide the town by a high-speed thruway and would invite traffic into Carmel from a heavily travelled arterial and, thereby, depart from the traditional concept of Carmel, which is one of relative inaccessibility. Direct accessways should play no part in the long-range planning of Carmel. Because of this, in the past, Carmel has been permitted to develop its own personality and atmosphere, which is different than that of the usual railroad or highway-side city.

Our committee also believes that there would be a great deal of loss to traffic circulation if Highway

Wagenmanns Buy Color And Glass

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagenmann, owners of the Carmel Paint and Wallpaper Co., located on Junipero near Fourth Avenue, announced this week that they will take

No. 1 were closed north of Valley Way as shown on the Livingston Plan. This would throw all traffic from Hatton Fields and Carmel Hills going north onto a quiet suburban street, and cause loss of property values in that area. The gain in closing the highway for park purposes would be far less than if it is left open for its natural purpose of serving the east half of town and the present high school.

The civic center as shown on the Livingston Plan is in our opinion located in the wrong place. There is no need to create a heart in Carmel. The heart of Carmel is the entire town and to raise a monument to city administration in the very center of town would, we feel, again tend to lose the feeling for the Unique Character of Carmel.

This committee heartily commends the Livingston Plan for its greenbelt area, and feels that this should be implemented at the earliest opportunity. However, we feel that Pescadero Canyon should be included in the natural parks and be left forever in its natural state without any development whatsoever.

Yours truly,
Citizens Advisory Committee
To The Planning Commission
George Bestor, Chairman.

HOUSE CLEANING OUR PIPE-LINES

This is a job that has to be done right along to keep pipes ship-shape. Not only do we clean our pipes but we also line certain sizes with cement. The cement coating eliminates rust, reduces leak hazards, and improves water flow. During the last few years we have cleaned and lined many miles of pipe at considerable expense.
